

Imagility For Family-Based Immigration

Navigating the intricacies of family-based immigration law requires attorneys to stay informed, be adaptable, and provide empathetic and effective representation to clients facing the complexities of the U.S. immigration system. There are several challenges Attorneys face.

- The ever changing nature of family immigration laws and policies backlogs/processing delays and language/cultural barriers can be overwhelming.
- Extensive documentation is required for family-based immigration cases. Attorneys must guide clients through the meticulous gathering and submission of documents, ensuring accuracy and completeness.
- The complex application processes for various family-based immigration categories, such as spousal or parent-child relationships, can be intricate. Attorneys must navigate the complexities, adjudication challenges and more.

How can Imagility help?

Family-based immigration attorneys have specific needs that can be supported by immigration software. Imagility offers some key features and functionalities that family-based immigration attorneys require:

- Comprehensive Visa Category Support: Imagility provides support for various family-based visa categories, such as marriage-based visas, immediate relative petitions, family preference categories, etc. It has built-in knowledge of the specific requirements, documentation, processes, and workflows associated with each visa category.

- › Case Management: Robust case management capabilities help attorneys to efficiently manage their case workload. This includes features like client intake, document management, task tracking, deadlines management, and collaboration tools.
- › Form Generation and Assembly: Imagility provides document generation and assembly features specific to family-based immigration forms, making it easier for attorneys to accurately prepare and complete the required immigration forms, petitions, and supporting documents.
- › Client Relationship Management: Family-based immigration attorneys often work closely with clients and their family members. Imagility's contact management, communication tracking, case history and notes help manage client relationships effectively.
- › Family Relationship Tracking: Imagility has the capability to track and manage complex family relationships, including tracking family members, relationship status, and priority dates, especially in cases involving visa backlogs or preference categories. Imagility triggers automatic notifications and alerts for immigration events.
- › Communication and Collaboration: Effective communication with clients, sponsors, beneficiaries, and government agencies is critical. Imagility enables email integration, and task delegation to streamline communication and collaboration among stakeholders.

Imagility makes building and tracking family-based petitions easy, helping attorneys manage their client cases effectively and provide quality legal services.
