with Imagility

Client Profile

Company Name: A Software Development Company

Industry: Technology

Location: Silicon Valley, USA

Objective: File H-1B petitions seamlessly and improve success rates

Challenges

Our client, a leading tech firm based in the USA, faced the annual challenge of filing H-1B petitions to bring in skilled foreign workers from abroad. The intricate process and the uncertainty of the lottery system were significant pain points to our client.

Complex H-1B Petition Filing Process

The annual filing of H-1B petitions posed a significant challenge due to the intricate and multi-step nature of the process. The company found it cumbersome to navigate the various requirements and documentation needed for each petition.

Documentation Management

Managing and organizing the extensive documentation required for each petition was a time-consuming task. The company struggled to compile all the necessary supporting documents accurately, leading to potential errors and delays.

Compliance Concerns

Staying abreast of the constantly evolving USCIS requirements and ensuring compliance with immigration regulations added complexity to the process. The company needed a solution that provided real-time updates to avoid compliance issues.

Strategic Decision-Making

The company had no clarity on a hiring strategy for acquiring global talent. Developing an effective strategy to maximize the chances of success was also another challenge.

Solution: Imagility's AI-Enabled Platform

The Software Development Company turned to Imagility to navigate the complexities of the H-1B petition filing process. Here's how Imagility made a difference:

User-Friendly Interface

Imagility's app provided a user-friendly interface, simplifying the often complex petition filing process. The lottery app is an added asset that provides a funnel to the web app, allowing bulk upload of registrations.

Petition Building Wizard

The app's petition-building wizard guided the Software Development Company through each step, ensuring all necessary information was accurately entered.

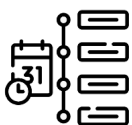

Document Checklist

A comprehensive document checklist within the platform helped them gather all the required supporting documents, reducing the chances of missing critical information.

Real-time Guidance

Imagility's app offered real-time guidance on USCIS requirements and updates, ensuring that the company was always informed and compliant.

Timeline Management

The app's timeline management feature helped the company stay organized, ensuring all deadlines were met without last-minute rushes.

Here is how Imagility helped the Software Development Company overcome the challenges
